Kindred Hospice

The pandemic made all of us rewrite and retool our Volunteer Programs. Many hospice organizations have developed creative measures to support families and patients. Merilee Smith of Kindred Hospice will moderate a panel of hospice volunteer coordinators and leadership to discuss their approaches to the last year and plans for 2021. We will share ideas and resources including those gathered from a national review of hospice volunteer programs.

FREE TOWN HALL WEBINAR
MARCH 9TH
NOON - 1:00 CT

1. Participants will hear from the panel tactics employed during 2020 that were effective in providing support to patients and families from their Volunteer Programs

2. Participants will hear about and receive the details and resources available from the panel and also from a review of programs nationally

3. Participants will get the opportunity to be in the discussion with colleagues from other hospice organizations and expand their network of volunteer professionals
